Q.2 While the priest received, we:

Wait until he drinks the Precious Blood, then sing the communion antiphon in English plainsong with organ accompiament.

Q.3 When distribution to the people began we:

Receive communion first while our director improvises on the organ.

Q.4 Then we:

Sing a communion hymn during the procession. All are "invited" to sing but in practice only the choir sings.

Q.5 And at the Communion Mediation We:

Listen our director improvise on the organ some more.

Q.2 While the priest received, we:

"We" (i.e., me as one-man schola, accompanied by organ) began the communion chant... sang the antiphon (only) in English (Fr. Weber's translation)

Q.3 When distribution to the people began we:

Continued singing the 'communio' — Mitte — in Latin, antiphon and verses, accompanied by the organ (Nova Organi Harmonia).

Q.4 Then we:

Concluded the communion chant by repeating (once more) the English antiphon (Fr. Weber).

Q.5 And at the Communion Mediation We:

Silence! (Actually, the priest led us in a recited prayer from the Chaplet of Divine Mercy. But no music.)
